Dale's Double (or is it 007's....)

At a glittering ceremony Roadhogg Stalwart Dale Jenkins was crowned 'Athlete of the Year' by his fellow runners. He had already won 'Male Road Running Athlete of the Year', a clear indication that Captain Rambo had his finger on the pulse.

During the season, Dale set PBs at 6 miles (40.18), 10K (41.32), 10 miles (1.10.39) and Half Marathon (1.29.41). Science says you get slower as you get older; clearly Dale knows better!

He also hit Gold Standard at all distances up to 20 miles with the exception of 7 miles (even he couldn't overcome the heat at Hungarton!). He obviously doesn't even get tired after races; his 8 mile standard was set the day after his Half Marathon PB!

His performances brought him a string of age-group prizes, nicely topped off by his first LRRL award; 2nd V55. Of course one must never mention 'the one that got away' i.e. the Harborough Half where he was misdirected by a dopey marshal.

Presentation 2015

As much fillet steak, chicken, shepherd's pie and veggie curry as you can eat, not to mention the finger food and five deserts; how good does it get? If that wasn't enough there was some classic British comedy as well. A big thank you to John and his staff for the food and welcome, and to Keith and the rest of the helpers/performers for a fun evening. There were some strong contenders in the fancy dress competition but the prize went to Barbara and Steve (Michelle and Herr Flick from 'Allo').

Awards 2015: Blackadder, Queenie, Herr Flick and Michelle

Award Winners

Emma Raven was captain's pick for Female Road Runner of the Year. We're all delighted that Emma decided to do more races this year and she put in a string of great performances including a couple of Gold Standards. Her 7 league races made a significant contribution to our successful promotion pushes.

Clare was our 'most improved lady' in 2015. She says that the smog prevented her from doing much running in Beijing but from the moment she returned, she's been on an upwards curve. She set PBs at 5k (23.39), 5 miles (38.37), 6 miles (46.53), 10K (48.19), 7 miles (58.34), 8 miles (1.05.25), 10 miles (1.21.45), Half Marathon (1.44.02) and Marathon (3.47.21).

For the men, Ben beat off strong competition from Fabio and others. Ben hasn't missed a LRRL race since he joined us two years ago and he's become a mainstay of the cross country team as well. He's registered PBs at 5 miles (35.56), 6 miles (43.53), 10K (45.34), 8 miles (1.00.16), 10 miles (1.17.55) and Half Marathon (1.40.37).

The cross country awards were won by James and Becca Bostock. Sadly for us, they have moved back to Yorkshire. Gone, but not forgotten.

Finally, there was a 'Chairman's Award' for Trudy Sharpe in recognition of her solo Equinox (thus confirming her place in the pantheon of Roadhogg ultra runners) and her culinary contribution to the success of our cross country teams.

Running Physiology

I have always been rubbish in the heat. I reconfirmed this with a particularly awful time at Hungarton in July, although I did at least manage to stay upright. The latest science suggests that in a race, our bodies monitor the rate at which our core temperature is rising and calculate whether or not it will become 'critical' before we reach the finish. If the result of the calculation is not favourable, the brain will reduce the recruitment of muscle units (power) and thus cause you to slow down.

It will come as no surprise that the longer the race, the more likely your performance is to suffer (at any given temperature). However, because it is a 'managed' process, the point at which you start to slow will be largely independent of race distance.

What practical use is this information? Easy; if it's hot, start slow and speed up later (if you can). Don't do what I did at Hungarton; start at normal speed and end up having to walk!

Getting Muddy with Kim

Derby Runner League Race 2 - Bagworth 22/11/15

It was an icy cold but still day as we assembled in our transportable race preparation and recovery module at Bagworth Heath. One or two hardy runners got ready to race in just the club vest and shorts, whilst others wore t-shirts and track pants, or hats and gloves. We welcomed Marcus and Shaun for their debuts in the XC league, and it was good to see John Davies starting back after a long-term back injury. I noticed the bright and shiny shoes that Marcus, Shaun, Emma, Vicky and Amy were wearing, compared to Baz's and Drew's which were still carrying some mud from the last race. It didn't matter really because at the end of the race, all shoes will be the same muddy brown. Before the race, Dale was posing inside the tent like a male model, Emma was worrying about just how muddy it was going to be, and poor Trudy was recovering from a cold and coughing outside. Ben 'Zatopek' Milsom showed how fit he was by running the Parkrun on Saturday, then a leg for Roadhoggs in the University relays, and then was there for the cross-country race on Sunday!

The course was a bit longer than usual; 6.5 miles over 2 laps with a long slow climb at the start of each lap and that steep hill up to the ridge later on. Bagworth is a nice course through open heathland, but there are no easy sections and you just hang in there and try to maintain your pace. You can see runners on top of the ridge from where we stood at the start. Much of the track was narrow and muddy which meant that you had to pick your moment to overtake anyone, or just hang on to the runner in front. The sun did try to come out and warm the air up as the morning went on, and some hats and gloves were thrown at me at the lap change as our runners warmed up in the race. Mark was back to lead in the men's team, but then there was a wait before Dale and Fabio led in the rest. After that we packed pretty well but, and with respect to the older guys on the day who always give 110% for the team, we still need more of you younger and quicker runners to back up Mark, Fabio, Ben etc and get the Roadhoggs men's team back up to where we should be. The girls again did better; Emma and Vicky had a good race with each other and finished close together, and were well supported by our new brides Amy and Barbara and our slightly older bride Trudy. Our most recent newlyweds Barbara and Steve both had better runs at Bagworth than at the first race in Markfield, proving that love makes you run faster.

I must add that the Roadhoggs cross-country team at the moment includes some big guys, who are not natural cross-country runners and have to work even harder to drag themselves through the mud and up the hills ... such great effort from John, Marcus and Shaun. Both teams improved on the first race, but the girls are outscoring the boys and beginning to move ahead in the league. Come on you guys, there is still time to fight back, don't let the girls rule!
